4. NEW BUSINESS:
 - A. The discussion on artist to show in Chambers was short, it was agreed that Committee members would create a small list of artists they thought would show and submit this list at a later date. This item was tabled until the list is available.
 - B. Todd felt it was time to bring back the "Friends of the Arts" into the picture. It was agreed that to activate the interest of the "Friends of the Arts" there needed to be a large event. Greg felt a music event, i.e. battle of the bands, would draw a nice large crowd to Sand City. All Committee members agreed. A discussion of where an event such as this could be held in Sand City. Brian suggested several people that would have good experience in putting on event like this. Todd was to look into a calendar of events from the area to assist in the time and date for this event. This discussion lead into a question by Heinz if there were any buildings owned by the City that the Arts Committee could hold workshops or even have an office to work out of? Heinz offered to get back to the Committee with a short list of classes he would like to see created. Todd would follow up with the City on this request. Greg brought up the future use of his building on Elder Avenue for such a use.
 - C. The website was to be put on hold until there were any events to be placed on it. The Committee directed Todd to talk to City staff and make sure the Arts Committee would be represented on Sand City website as combining the sites would be more cost effective.

- D. There was no consensus on when a regular meeting for the Arts Committee during the month could be held because of Committee members other obligations. Next meeting would tentatively be the 19th unless redirected.
5. UNFINISHED BUSINESS: Heinz and Debra have not been able to get together via e-mail on the community survey. Tabled until the next meeting.
